Migration As A Service – Consulting Engagement

The opening of the first major Public Cloud provider region in Africa made the headlines. Customers now can utilize IaaS for their workloads in the region. The challenges facing the local market are skills and executing at scale. This offering addresses both these challenges by utilizing native migration scripts that can be run at scale. Digitize for You offers a migration cost per server within a window period. It requires some hardware in your DC to replicate your data to Cloud to provide encryption, at rest and in transit. Once deployed this environment can be used for other migration or disaster functions as well.
